Jackson Chapel Methodist Church
Bartonsville
Private

1879

The Jackson Methodist Episcopal Church is a one story frame structure three bays long with center from entrance. Although very little of the original historic fabric of the building remains, the church has served as a place of worship for the Bartonsville Community (originally Jackson) since October 12, 1879 when it was dedicated.

At the time of dedication, a bible which is still in use at the church was presented by Reverend S. E. Leech, D.D., on behalf of the Maryland Bible Society. The church was chartered into the Carter Epworth League North Baltimore District in the Washington Conference in 1895.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Jackson Methodist Episcopal Church is a one story frame structure covered with asbestos shingles which faces south from the north side of Bartonsville Road.

A one story shed roofed addition extends on the east side of the building. The building is a front gabled rectangular structure, three bays deep with center front entrance. The tar paper roof is finished by a boxed gable with return.

Very little of the original historical fabric of the building remains, but the building continues to be a central meeting place of the Bartonsville Community.
